H₂O hope in Southeast & Caribbean U.S.

Adaptation is harder in some places, so EcoAdapt lends a hand to make it easier. Our multi-year engagement with water resource managers in the Southeastern U.S. has resulted in a regionally useful overview of key climate impacts and a review of the major local climate savvy water-related activities.

Save the Date: 4th National Adaptation Forum

The planning process has just begun, so stay tuned for the Call for Proposals, registration and other developing news. #NAF2019

Who: You & your adaptation colleagues
When: April 23-25, 2019
Where: Monona Terrace, Madison, WI

Supporting the Resilience Ecosystem

Nope, it wasn't a meeting about ecosystems, rather it was a two-day collaboration to identify what supports adaptation around the United States and how to better connect these elements in order to support our nation's growing adaptation needs. Better yet, the Climate Resilience Fund has an open request for proposals to implement the great ideas that emerged.
